

Let The Ordering Commence: New Smart ForTwo Pricing And Purchase Information Announced

To those of you eagerly anticipating the arrival of the next smart fortwo, your wait - at least to order the new model - is just about over.

DaimlerChrysler has announced today that ordering of the smart fortwo will commence this Monday, January 15th, with prices no higher than the previous model (the one pricing example given was the new smart fortwo coupe with 45kW / 61bhp, with pricing for the pure equipment line noted at EUR 9,490). As for when you'll actually get your hands on the new smart, that day will be in April when the smart officially makes its market launch.
