

Geneva Motor Show Preview: The Smart Fortwo Special Model 'Edition Limited Three'

When the 79th Geneva Motor Show opens its doors in a little over a week from now, another model making its debut will be a special edition of the lovable smart fortwo micro hybrid drive (mhd) – one the company is calling the smart fortwo "edition limited three." A picture of spring, the fortwo limited edition three is based on the passion equipment line, and comes standard with melon green metallic paintwork and a host of practical options. Highlights include 15-inch alloy wheels in a six-spoke design, softouch automatic gear program, electric windows, air conditioning with automatic temperature control, dashboard instruments and the radio 9.
