

The WALD Mercedes-Benz S-Class Black Bison Edition with Mahora M13 Three-Piece Wheels

For those of you looking to spruce up your Mercedes S-Class, Wald just sent us a few pics of their Black Bison kit for the model paired with their new Mahora M13 three-piece wheels. The Black Bison kit isn't new – we told you about it last March – but in case you missed it, it consists of a new front and rear apron, sports fender ducts, side skirts and a few new spoilers.

As for the wheels, their design speaks for itself, but personally I find them to be a better match with the Black Bison kit than the black Portofino forged wheels originally featured on the model.
